FORTY-SECOND YEAR NO. 4.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1919

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

Toll Rates Are Changed

We have been handed a copy of the new toll rate sheet put out by the government since the telephones and telegraph lines have been taken over by the government under the management of that astute Democratic politician, A. S. Buxton, Post Master General, who hails from Texas.

Charges for station to station service will not be reversed. Orders will be established for communication between specified persons.

If you put in a call for a person and he cannot be found a charge of ten cents is made.

The same where the party called refuses to talk, or is out or absent from the city.

Toll messages up to six miles are 5 cents, 6 to 12 miles, 10 cents, up to 40 miles when the toll is 30 cents. More than 40 miles to 48 miles 35 cents and up to 56 miles 40 cents, each additional 8 miles or fraction 5 cents.

New schedules have been provided for messenger rates and for those messages sent after midnight until 4 a.m.

Reports have been current that we would have a toll message for Xenia service over the Home lines but such is not the case. All toll messages are subject to the new rates and Home messages out of the county or for service different than what we have had previous to the new order.

PROPOSED CHANGE FOR THANKSGIVING DATE.

Representative Stokes of Dayton has introduced a bill in the legislature to designate Tuesday, Nov. 11th as Thanksgiving Day. This being the day the armistice was signed it is proposed to make it a day of world-wide thanksgiving. It is believed the resolution will have no opposition in the Ohio legislature and that other states will take similar action.

WANTS CHANGE IN THE PRESENT SCHOOL LAWS

Representative McKay of Clinton county has introduced a bill in the legislature seeking to change the present school law by dropping all district superintendents but giving the county superintendent an assistant in counties having more than 200 teachers.

WILL TRY VOTE ON SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN

There will be another vote on the question of woman's suffrage if a resolution offered in the Ohio legislature becomes a law. The vote will be taken in 1920 and if approved will be effective January 1, 1921.

THE NEXT NUMBER.

Knight MacGregor, gifted Canadian baritone, is to be heard here on day evening Jan. 27th as the supply number of the lecture course. He will be assisted by a violinist and a pianist in a program of well known songs as "The Wee Wee Among the Heather," and "The Long, Long Trail." In these songs Mr. MacGregor will impersonate the great comedian, Harry Lauder.

While in Philadelphia recently Mr. MacGregor was entertained by Harry Lauder and was furnished the manuscripts of four unpublished Lauder songs, with full permission to use them. The program is varied, extending from the classics to songs of much lighter vein. There will be selections from grand operas, sacred songs and semi-popular airs.

MacGregor's first bid for prominence was in Alberta, Canada, in 1911 when he carried off the gold medal in the baritone class.

A. T. Finney is preparing to sow six acres of spring wheat having got his seed from Logan county where it was found to grow and produce a fine crop. A number of Clark county farmers have sown spring wheat for several seasons and are pleased with the results.

NO ADDITIONAL TAX ON VARIOUS AMUSEMENTS.

The action of congress in endeavoring to increase the tax on amusements has created a stir over the country not only among theatrical interests which protested but from lecture course and athletic interests. The action of the conferees in deciding to let the tax remain at 10 per cent instead of 20 ends the controversy.

In Some Town Over There is a Baby Who Can Live If You Say the Word

By BRUCE BARTON.

I sometimes picture it to myself this way. Suppose that somewhere down town in New York, or in Chicago or St. Louis, there were a huge auction room, where the lives of men and of little children were on sale.

Suppose that every day the auctioneer's red flag hung out as a sign that on that day so many men were to be allowed to die; so many women; and so many little ones.

Allowed to die, just for the lack of a few dollars. Just for the want of the little sum that would ransom them.

Suppose that were the case, I say to myself; could I possibly stay away? Is there any argument I could give to myself that would keep me from going there day after day, and buying with all my power? Buying men and women and children, at that auctioneer's block, with the dollars that would mean life to them?

It's not a very pretty picture; yet compared to the pictures that I have seen from stricken Armenia and Syria, or all the empires of the Near East, it is almost beautiful.

For men and women and children are dying over there—dying for the lack of sums that seem pitifully, miserably small.

I am not rich, and I have all the little worries that are common to us middle class folks. Worries about next year's income tax; and about the future of business, and where my income will go to if such and such things take place.

But I have a worse worry than that. The worry for what my conscience will say to me, if in this hour of the world's tribulation I do not do my share.

The worry lest in my ears for the rest of my life there should be the cry of a man, or a woman, or a little child whose life I might have saved.

For they are crying over there today, stretching out their weak, tired arms. And it's a marvellous thought to me; that modest as my income is, it's big enough to let me save the life of one of them—big enough to give me a man, or a woman, or a child who will never cease to be thankful that I did my part.

They are waiting for our answer over there: yours and mine. A poor stricken man-broken by the war; and a woman, weak from her struggle and terror; and a baby who can live and grow up into useful manhood or womanhood, if only you say the word.

Elephant Shoes NEW ZOO STYLE

Now we know why leather is so scarce and shoe prices so high. They are making shoes for elephants. It has been learned that elephants suffer from cold feet during the winter months here. So Lena of the New York zoo has been fitted out in new "boots" for the cold months—and two "maids" to lace 'em up.

THE SOLDIER AND THE CIGARETTE.

The recent defence of the "cigarette habit" by a minister of the gospel from a neighboring city in one of our local pulpits should not pass by unchallenged. We doubt not that some of his intelligent audience approved of the fearless presentation of his own views on the subject, but from the after comments we are inclined to conclude that the greater majority of parents and others interested in safeguarding the youth of our land felt that the stamp of approval placed upon the insidious cigarette habit by the reverend gentlemen was not wholly becoming minister of the gospel.

We have heard of no attempt to reform tobacco users in our army, navy or marine during the war, nor any serious objection to supplying their cravings for tobacco while in the service—but there has been a mighty protest throughout the land against popularizing the tobacco habit and upon the young men who heard and apparently thrusting "smokes" upon the young men who heard and headed their country's call.

The thinking public should not be deceived. The furnishing of tobacco to the soldiers was conceived and fostered by the manufacturers of tobacco instead of the users of tobacco. It was a financial scheme rather than a philanthropic movement. Perusal of tobacco journals proves this conclusively. The tobacco manufacturers cleverly garbed themselves in the cloak of "patriotism" and for a time certain patriotic and religious organizations were their tools.

In our great reconstruction program for a better and safer America we should not be misguided by the statements of "cigarette users" that there is no harm in it "and that the boys who have acquired the habit 'over there' will be none the worse for it."

Scientists, naturalists, inventors, business men, philanthropists and child-welfare workers are today leading out in an aggressive educational campaign against nicotine in an earnest endeavor to safeguard the future. MANY MEN DROPPED ON THE RAILROAD.

Economy seems to be the latest order of the railroad administration and as a result hundreds of men on this and other lines have been dropped from the pay roll.

The section bosses have been given two men each and the others dismissed. Numerous other employees have felt the ax, especially the telegraph operators. The men at stations in Wilberforce and Selma and smaller will have no operators. James Caldwell, Main street watchman had his salary cut in two to provide another man, Milton Stratton a place. Each will work eight hours. The men that subscribed for Liberty bonds and have not completed the payments will get the money back they have already paid. "Dutch" Cotterell, who has been living in London has been ordered back here to take Jerry Creardon's section while Jerry goes to London.

THE FRESHMAN SPREAD.

The Freshman class of the College broke the monotony of the year by springing a spread on the upper-class men. The affair took place at the home of Miss Edith Ramsey. Contrary to the custom of former spreads the refreshments were enjoyed early in the evening. When the intruders succeeded in gaining admittance by the coal chute route they had arrived too late to be fed. J. M. Ramsey rather than see them hunger treated them to apples. Games of various kinds with plenty of music were enjoyed throughout the evening. Both Freshman and Upperclassmen departed at a late hour after a much enjoyed evening.

BASKET BALL RESULTS.

The two basket ball games last Friday night drew a large crowd and both games were exciting to the end.

The game between the college boys and the Wilmington was won by the former, the score being 40 to 36.

The local high school team defeated the college second team on a score of 29 to 19.

Tonight the College Girls and the High school girls will try their hand in a game at the Alford preceding the game between the College five and the Dayton's of the Miami Conservancy district association. Both will be good games and worth attending.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 26

ISRAEL CROSSING THE RED SEA.

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 14:1-15:21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thus the Lord saved
the Israelites that day out of the hands of the Egyptians. Exodus 14:30.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Deuteronomy
1:37-40; Psalms 78:1-5; 105:27-35; 135:
1-12.

The tenth stroke from the strong hand of the Almighty made Pharaoh willing to let Israel go. The tenth turn of the screw of omnipotence brought him to time. The Israelites go out on their way to the promised land with a high hand. Through the land of the Philistines the journey would have been comparatively short; but God commanded them to turn from that way lest going through the land of the Philistines they see war and desire to turn back to Egypt. The Lord had respect for their needs. "He knoweth our frame, he remembereth that we are dust." (Psalms 103:14.) He suits our trials to our ability to meet them.

The Lord went before them in a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night. He not only thus indicated unto them the right path, but walked with them in it. God does not deliver and then leave us alone, but becomes our companion. At the Lord's direction they turned from their first course and were made to face a seeming difficulty. The Red sea was before them, and mountains on either side.
The stricken Egyptians had recovered from their sorrow and now saw the Israelites in a situation from which they could not extricate themselves.
They interpreted this to mean that Moses was unable to lead them out of their difficulty; therefore, they went in pursuit, hoping yet to prevent them from going out of the country.

I. The Miraculous Escape of the Israelites (14:13-22).

They were in a straitened condition but had no reason to fear, for the Lord had led them thence. It is safe to be where the Lord leads, though every avenue is closed against us.
There seems to be a two-fold object in leading them into this peculiar place:
to strengthen the faith of the people and to lay a snare for the overthrow of the Egyptians. The people, as usual, displayed their unbelief and even ensured Moses for leading them out of Egypt. Moses replied to their murmurs by saying, "Fear ye not, stand still and see the salvation of the Lord." Standing still in such a trial is faith taking hold of God's promises. This is hard for the natural man to do. Before the salvation of the Lord can ever be seen or experienced we must come thus to him.
While reposing our confidence in the Lord, there comes a time when we must make our faith active. God said, "Wherefore criest thou unto me? Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward." Having had his definite promise, to have prayed long or would have been unbelief. The thing to be done then was to step out upon his eternal promise. He lifted up the rod simply served as something tangible upon which their faith could act. They were to go forward a step at a time, without raising any question as to the outcome; for from the same source from which came the command, came the power to obey.
The presence of the Lord was added to their needs as they went forward.
As they went forward the very thing which seemed their destruction became a wall of protection on either side.

II. The Overthrow of the Egyptians (15:1-27).

Having seen the Israelites go across dry-shod, Pharaoh and his hosts madly pursued them. They insanely thought that they in their unbelief could follow in the wake of God's children. The very things which are a wall and defense to the faithful become a snare and a means of destruction to the enemies of God's people.
The Lord looked forth from the cloud and wrought confusion among the Egyptians. There is a day coming when a look from the Almighty will cause a much greater consternation among the wicked (Revelation 6:16; 17; 20:11-13). He not only looked upon them but took off their chariot wheels, which caused them to realize that God was fighting against them.
He then directed Moses to stretch forth his rod and bring destruction upon the Egyptians. So complete was the overthrow that it is said that not one escaped.

III. The Song of Triumph (15:1-21).

Standing on the other shore of the Red sea, they could fittingly sing the song of triumph, because of the miraculous deliverance and the overwhelming defeat.

Instruments of Strength.

He is able to bear the crosses of others because he bears his own. He can be of use to men because he can do without men. He is ethically effective because he is spiritually free.
He is able to save because he is strong to suffer. His sympathy and his solitude are both alike the instruments of his strength.—Francis G. Peabody.

ens our nerves and sharpens our skill.
Our antagonist is our helper.—Burke.

Before God—We are Responsible for their Future

THE whitening bones of millions of massacred men, women and children are strewn the plains of Asia Minor from the Black Sea to the Persian Gulf.

In a single day's travel, an American relief worker saw the mutilated corpses of more than five thousand outraged women, piled by the roadside.

Thousands of living babies have been hurled into the rushing tides of the Euphrates, the Tigris and other rivers.

From the town of Harpoot eighteen thousand persons were deported, mostly women and girls. Deported—driven for endless miles over mountains, plains, deserts in bitter cold and parching heat.
Their mounted guards, ex-convicts,
criminals, ruffians of the lowest order.

At the end of sixty-four days the survivors, one hundred and eighty-five out of the eighteen thousand, staggered into a town hundreds of miles from where they started. Covered only with rags they were shuddering skeletons, half dead of their suffering, half blind with starvation.

Of the others, some died of privation
and hardship, some starved to death, some were eaten by wild beasts. God alone knows how the rest came to an end at the hands of worse than wild beasts.

The story of Harpoot is the story of

For the honor of America we cannot let their misery go unheeded. They have passed through unnameable hells of suffering. We cannot blot out their past. But before God we are responsible for their future—we are responsible for the rebuilding of these races. This is our work. Are you ready?

hundreds of towns in the Near East. In wretched groups, the survivors are straggling in from the deserts. Armenians, Syrians, Greeks, Jews, bringing disease, famine, woe as they come.

There are four million of these refugees. They have not even a crust of bread unless we provide it and four hundred thousand of them are orphaned children, little more than babies, helpless, resourceless, hungry. Seventeen cents a day, five dollars a month, sixty dollars a year will keep the breath of life in one of those emaciated bodies.

If this were the end of the story, appeal would be useless. Turko-German fiendishness would make aid almost unavailing.

But these oppressed peoples have been freed from Turkish rule, through the victory of the Allies and America.
They need only our help for a little time to re-establish themselves as self-supporting nations.

It will take thirty million dollars to care for their immediate needs in food and clothing, and buy tools, farm implements, seeds, live stock to put them on a self-supporting basis within the year.

This is the work we have to do—to raise that thirty million dollars—and to raise it now, before the survivors perish.

FRANK JEFFRIES GIVEN

FIVE AND COSTS.

Mayor McFarland held court last Friday evening when "Peg-Leg" Jeffries was up on a charge of drunk. The case is the result of the trouble last October when Jeffries had to be clubbed by the officer to land him in jail. It was the same night that Jeffries came near being burned to death in his cell from a lighted cigarette. Fearing blood poison the fellow lost one hand and all but the thumb of another. Attorney Frank L. Johnson of Xenia represented the defendant but none of his witnesses were called. A number were called for the state. Mayor McFarland found him guilty and placed a fine of $5 and costs but suspended sentence on good behavior.

America's Greatest Piano

When a man wins glory on the field of battle it is not uncommon for him to receive the recognition he so richly deserves. But the heroes of peace, the men who are fighting in the calm army of industry, must achieve great things indeed to win high honors for distinguished service.

Countless awards have been bestowed upon the "CHICKERING" Pianos in their long, glorious career of nearly a century, but there is one honor which must always stand as unique—

The Imperial Crown of the Legion of Honor

The present management of the Chickering factory realize their great responsibility and solemn obligation to preserve the time-honored Chickering traditions and ideals so that the noble instruments bearing this name may always retain its place at the front as

THE TAX QUESTION.

The man who hesitates is loosed.

The key of success lies around almost everywhere.

A broken promise can be repaired but it can never be made as good as new.

If you have nothing to worry you, chances are that nobody is worrying about you.

The merchant that keeps up good advertising always has to work to keep up his stock.

When a man asks you what you think of him he doesn't expect to get your real opinion.

Advertising is the axle-grease that makes the wheels of business turn easily and profitably.

There should be a sign displayed in each house of the legislature reading: "Live within your income" which at this time should be a warning to the tax spenders.

A report is going the rounds of the press that freight rates are to be increased again by the government. Another salary raise is due one of the unions we suppose.

In as much as Xenia has a revival meeting we suppose the municipal ownership of the water works and the awning question are shelved at least part of the time each day.

If the railroads are operated five more years by the government as McAdoo has asked, there will be nothing left of them to return to the owners at the end of that time.

We are very thankful that we never had aspirations to be a meat packer, otherwise we might have to stand for the same grilling that is handed out almost daily by congress to the meat combine.

The railroad management under the control of the government may have raised a lot of men's wages but what does that amount to when the men are laid off as was the case this week. Hundreds on this line were retired as business has fallen off.

Who is there that would not sell a business that had not earned a dividend in four years. That's the situation in Xenia with the water company. No wonder the company wants to sell, the real wonder is that the city would want to purchase.

Germany poisoned Russia and spread bolshevik propaganda to weaken her as one of the allies. Now that the chickens have come home to roost we would suggest that the red torch crowd be allowed their own way in Berlin for the next six months. After an experience with that element the Hun may have a longing for real peace.

We are glad to see the Democratic powers down in Washington raise all the wages of the railroad employees, telephone and telegraph operators and linemen and then rise the rates for freight, express, telegrams and telephones to meet this expense. We are glad to see all these people get higher wages but the government like cities with municipal ownership enterprises never figures on the capital invested as the private company must do. The recent ruling of having to pay a fee on a telephone call whether you get your party or not will only convince the public that public ownership is a farce but that reasonable regulation will be profitable to the company and public service patron as well.

WORKED RATHER THAN SUFFER

A well known farmer, who owns several hundred acres of land, stated the other day that he expected to see more forms of taxes levied on the people of the state this coming year than ever before. Land values will be increased on the tax duplicate and various other means resorted to for taxes. Unless farmers demand of their representative that the legislature retain the one per cent tax law and make some effort to abolish useless positions so that cities, towns and school districts can live on the present tax return, farm land and all town property are going to carry the burden of the load.

We heard of a lady who suffered with the earache the other night. She could not sleep and the pain was most annoying.

Along about the wee small hours, when she became convinced that rest was out of the question, she calmly arose and dressed. Then she lit the fire and proceeded to do her week's washing. She found more comfort in working than in tossing in bed, and after breakfast when the pain had decreased, she went to bed with the added satisfaction of having her work done on time.

Few women would have the determination to follow this lady's example. Most of us, male or female, would have tossed and groaned and had the family up filling hot water bottles and waiting on us.

It is a great thing to have nerve and self-possession and determination and we admire the lady's course beyond expression.

She will be greatly surprised to see her experience publicly commented upon and, we fear, may not be pleased, but as we promise to keep her identity secret, perhaps she won't stop her paper.

HOW MANY EVER DID?

We were discussing an important question several days ago with a former representative of the Ohio legislature from a neighboring county during which conversation our friend remarked that the legislature was nothing more than what the people make of the state make it. The people seem to have the idea that all that is necessary is to elect some man to this responsible position and let it drop at that.

Ohio has numerous laws that are of little value and scores of laws that are not worth enforcing. All passed because some legislature had the idea such was necessary. Had the people given him their views when these bills are pending hundreds of laws would be defeated or passed as the majority demands. This former legislator stated that in two terms, four, he had but six letters from his constituency relative to legislative matters. Scores of letters from job and office seekers were received.

Many bills are now before the legislature that will require the appointment of men to high salaried offices that will go to some politician for the average citizen never has a chance at the public tent unless he has had a place in the political pool.

If you think more places should be created at the expense of the tax payers, write your representative or senator and say so. If you are opposed to such or think some of the present laws should be repealed as a matter of economy, be frank and tell your representative in plain terms. He will not be offended, in fact if he is honest and sincere in the work you have chosen for him he will be guided by the sentiment you or the majority express.

EATING DEAD HORSES

THIS is a photograph of starving Kurds cutting up dead horses in Urnula Persia, then eating the flesh without cooking it. Thousands have died from starvation and other thousands are at the point of starvation. It is for these people that the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief will campaign for $30,000,000 the week of Jan. 27. Ohio's quota is $1,840,000.

ONE OUT OF FIFTEEN

THIS Syrian boy, clothed and fed by American generosity, is a sturdy worth-while little fellow, the sole survivor of a family of fifteen. His parents, brothers and sisters died from starvation, as thousands of others have done in the Near East. Contribute to the Armenian and Syrian Relief Campaign the week of Jan. 27th and save another boy like this. Ohio's quota in the campaign is $1,840,000. The national quota is $30,000,000.

HERE YOU HAVE THE POILU

Brief Definition of Man to Whom Many Will Claim the World Owes its Salvation.

An humble man who, one July afternoon in 1914, left at two hours notice his Parisian shop or workshop, or his ripe wheat fields or his ripening vines, for a military depot he had never liked, and had managed to tolerate only because soldiering and all things soldierly are likable to the Frenchman; and took on halo in his imagination, was packed to the Belgian frontier; made the acquaintance of danger under all its forms; fought, hungered, and thirsted for days; knew the trenches when they were in their crudest novelty and worse than the hedges' hole; got wounded and lay for hours, sometimes days, where he had fallen, or crawled miles to a hurried surgeon and to the torturing goods, trucks pompously labeled sanitary trains; got well and went back to the depot, and then back to the front and to fighting or being shelled; and so on during the four years, with the ever disappointing certainty that "next winter must be the last," or that imminent coming in of this or that nation must bring the end.

Aviator's Heart Enlarged. Doctors Etienne and Lamy of Nancy, France, have conducted a series of X-ray examinations of the hearts of aviators and have found evidence of considerable enlargement. The heart enlargement sets in early in the flying man's career, being noticeable after five months of experience in the air. The degree of enlargement is roughly proportional to the height at which the aviator is accustomed to fly, so that simple examination of the X-ray plate suffices to determine a man's branch of flying service; whether he is doing chasing and bombing work at high altitudes, or is engaged at harrying infantry, etc., at comparatively low altitudes. The enlargement seems to be symmetrical, and it does not appear to involve serious trouble. It is due to the heart's adapting itself to the extra work put upon it by changes in the blood circulation because of the varying conditions in the atmosphere through which the aviator flies and to the general happenings incident to aviation.

Worthy Son of Nippon. One of the first Japanese settlers in California was Kanee Nagasawa, the present owner of one of the largest wineries in the state. In 1895 the then young Nagasawa was sent to Scotland for education, by the prince of Satsuma. While in Edinburgh he was befriended by a Mr. Harris, founder of a certain religious faith of high idealism. In 1898 Harris came to the United States to found a real colony, and Nagasawa accompanied him to New York, where he stayed for over ten years. When Harris established a colony in Santa Rosa in 1899 Nagasawa was his confidant and fellow pioneer. By his zeal and industry he converted the wilderness into a vineyard and today his vines command the highest prices in the markets of London and Paris.

TO DEMONSTRATE 25 KINDS OF TRACTORS

Will Be Shown During Farmers' Week, January 27-31.

Some of the very best agricultural engineers in the country have been secured to lecture at the second annual Ohio farmers' tractor demonstrations, to be held at the College of Agriculture, Columbus, from Jan. 27 to 31. Among them, in addition to the staff of agricultural engineering department of the Ohio State University, are: E. A. White of the University of Illinois, F. M. White, A. P. Yerkes and E. J. Sougetad of Chicago and Theodore A. Peck of Saginaw, Mich. The demonstrations are being conducted co-operatively by the Ohio State University and the State Board of Agriculture.

Twenty-five tractor companies will exhibit their latest makes of tractors and send specialists to demonstrate and explain their mechanism. The program of 10 lectures provided by the agricultural engineers will probe the most practical problems with which the users of these machines have to deal on their own farms.

The seventh annual Farmers' Week will be held at the College of Agriculture at the same time. Over twenty state-wide agricultural associations will hold their meetings, and a special program will be provided for the entire farm family, including the wives and children. Over 100 speakers have been engaged for the big event. These meetings are all open to the public without cost. Programs may be had of the Agricultural College of Extension Service, Columbus, Ohio.

GOVERNMENT CONSENTS

War Industries Board Grants Ohio State Journal Permission to Conduct Annual Bargain Offer.

Under date of July 5, 1918, the Pulp and Paper Section of the War Industries Board, Washington, D. C., advanced the Ohio State Journal that due to the shortage of paper materials the supply had become acute and its use must be economized to the greatest possible extent.

The management of the Journal co-operated with the government in the carry out of their plans, but after the signing of the armistice felt free to request the right to make combination offers at reduced prices.

At first the War Board was reluctant to modify their order, but finally announced that after Dec. 15 the restrictions would be raised.

The Ohio State Journal will therefore, during the month of January, conduct its Annual Bargain Offer. Among the numerous offers they will quote their publication and either the National Stockman or Ohio Farmer, for four dollars and fifty cents, the regular price being five dollars. The price of the Ohio State Journal alone will be four dollars.

The Ohio State Journal is the only morning paper published in Columbus or Central Ohio and has the big advantage of reaching rural route subscribers on the day of publication. It is a model newspaper suitable for any home, and of interest to every member of the family. It is just the kind of a newspaper everybody ought to read.

On account of the scarcity of paper and uncertainty of future quotations the Ohio State Journal will not guarantee prices after midnight January 31. Subscriptions may be forwarded through this office or sent direct to the Ohio State Journal.

Precedes Opening of Armenian Relief Campaign.

CARRIES AN ASSORTED CARGO

Drive For Funds For Relief of Peoples of Asia Minor and the Caucasus. Beginning Week of Jan. 27, Has Hearty Approval of President Wilson and Food Administrator Hoover. Ohio's Quota is $1,640,000.

New York.—(Special).—The first of a fleet of relief ships owned by the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief sailed from New York this week for ports in Asia Minor. This vessel is the Mercurius, which has been given to the committee by the navy department with the approval of the food administration. The president and Herbert Hoover, director general of the interrelated food administration, are in hearty sympathy with the aims of the committee and are aiding in every way, as indicated by their recent cablegrams to the officials of the organization.

Sailing of the Mercurius preceded by only a few days the opening of the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee Campaign in the United States for $30,000,000, with which to carry on further relief work. The campaign will be held the week of Jan. 27. Ohio's quota is $1,640,000.

Carrying an assorted cargo of materials and equipment for relief purposes, the Mercurius will reach Constantinople in about 30 days, and begin the work of distributing food, clothing and medical supplies among the starving and plague-infested peoples of Armenia, Syria and Persia, and among the Greeks of Asia Minor.

Another steamer, similarly equipped, but carrying even more foodstuffs and other goods, will sail from this port about the middle of the month. This ship, too, has been presented to the American Committee for Relief in the Near East by the government. Only last week the West Cape, laden with a million and a half dollars' worth of flour, sailed for Constantinople and Beirut, Syria. The 7,555 tons of flour are the property of the committee, having been purchased with the consent of the food administration for distribution throughout Asia Minor by way of the ports mentioned above. The committee has directors in this hunger-ridden area who are supervising the feeding and healing of millions of Armenians, Syrians, Greeks and Persians. The West Cape is not the property of the committee. It is the Mercurius, which is the first of the completely equipped relief ships owned by the committee to be sent on its mission of mercy.

On board the Mercurius are 24 small motor cars, 20 motorcycles, 15 ambulances, 60 motor trucks, 2,000,000 yards of cloth, 100,000 blankets, 50,000 pairs of shoes, 1,000 cases of refugee clothing, 200 tons of foodstuffs, chiefly groceries; seven 100-bed hospital units and 10,000 cans of condensed milk.

A special license was required from the food administration for the export of this great quantity of prepared milk. Were it not for the fact that this commodity is intended for hungry babies and children in the Near East, the government would not permit it to be sent out of the country in bulk. The committee got in touch with the food administration in Washington and obtained permission to take out the milk.

Captain Caleb L. Morris, U. S. N., commanding the Mercurius, will get in touch at Constantinople with the commissioners who sailed from this port a week ago to make a survey of Asia Minor for the American Committee for Relief in the Near East. The commissioners are Dr. James L. Barton, Dr. J. F. H. Main, president of Grinnell college, Iowa; Arthur Curtiss James, Dr. E. C. Moore of Harvard university, Dr. W. W. Peet of Washington, Dr. G. H. Washburn of Boston and Harold A. Hatch of New York city.

LABOR SHORTAGE THREATENS PRODUCTION

The Fertilizer Industry Hard Hit by the War.

The supply of fertilizer for 1919 spring sown crops is threatened by shortage of labor in the fertilizer factories. This fact is of particularly serious import to the potato farmers of the country, for the great potato season are coming more and more to depend on fertilizer for the economical production of this crop. Thus it happens that the very factor which prevents factories running to full capacity also has effect in preventing farmers from using their own depleted farm labor supply to best advantage. Labor cannot be used to advantage on those fields which can give but half a crop.

The fertilizer industry is normally a seasonal industry. About the first of February the factories are normally in full blast, producing fertilizer for use on spring crops. Then they "die down" again for a period of several months. In late spring and early summer this requires a large floating supply of labor, a supply which has largely been eaten up by demands of the shipyards and munition factories.

Transferring the industry from a seasonal basis to a full 12 months' operating basis will certainly be economical of labor. The factories can then work at somewhat diminished daily capacity for more weeks in the year, and in this way get out the necessary tonnage. It can't be done at once, however, because factories do not have storage space enough to allow of this. Goods must be shipped out almost as fast as they are made—so that the greatest possible output by the restricted supply of labor may be assured.

If fertilizer users the country over will order early, through accustomed channels, and agree to take the goods from the car on arrival, much may be done to help insure a sufficient supply for next spring's business. Early ordering, however, means NOW.

68th Annual Fur Clearance Sale

Opens Thursday, Jan. 23rd

The unprecedented vogue of furs and the war-time shortage of trappers and skilled furriers have occasioned the most acute situation in furs ever experienced. The raw skins now coming into the markets and which will go into next season's garments average fully 50% higher than a year ago. This means that contrary to popular opinion furs will inevitably be far more costly next year than this. The 10% luxury tax, which the government still retains in the revenue bill now pending before congress, will doubtless also be in effect. Aside from the decided reductions this sale offers from regular prices these other double savings made by buying now command your attention. Our invoice shows $22,975.00 worth of high grade furs that must be turned into money—it is a real opportunity to own just what you want at the price you wish to pay.

BRYAN'S WIDOW WILL TRY TO BREAK WILL IN COURTS.

The young widow of John Bryan, of Yellow Springs has brought suit in the Hamilton county courts to break the will not being satisfied with the $5000 yearly allotment until she is 40 when she was to have $100,000. She is suing for her dower right in the estate valued at a million. The Union Savings & Trust Co. of that city was named executor and trustee of the estate under the will and the widow wants Edgar Stark, the trust officer removed but the court has refused to take this action. Mr. Stark has discovered that Bryan had $75,000 worth of securities in the safety deposit of another bank in the city under the name of L. N. Harper. The bank refuses to turn the property over to the executor without a court order and a suit has been filed to require this to be done. It is said that Bryan had considerable money deposited in fictitious names.

WANT PADS FOR SEATS OF LEGISLATIVE MEMBERS.

A member of the Ohio Legislature has introduced a bill in the House authorizing the Sergeant-at-Arms to provide pads for the seats of the members who find sitting on the hard chairs quite a task. As the members go into session each day about 10 o'clock if enough of the members are up by that time and then adjourn for noon meal and have four long hours in the afternoon, we think cushions should be provided. No man should be compelled to sit so long on hard-bottom chairs when the salary is only $1,000 for six or eight weeks work. What a contrast with the life of a soldier out on No Man's Land as a human target for $30 a month, and half of that sent to some dependant if the soldier happened to have one!

its cruellest weapon—poisonous gas. Thousands of our finest young men are destined to be slain and thousands of others blinded for life, by poisonous gases inflicted upon them by the Germans in this war.

But the numbers of our men killed and the numbers injured by all the poisonous gases of the Germans will be fewer than those who will be killed and injured by the poisonous gases of cigaret-smoke which our hypersentimentality is inflicting upon them, while the after effects will be even worse.

I do not for one minute mean to imply that cigaret smoke is as virulent a poison as the gases employed against our troops by the Germans, but I do mean that cigaret smoke will be responsible for lasting injury to many more of our men and be responsible for a larger number of deaths than the poisonous gases of the Germans, and I claim that the permanent effect of cigaret poison are even worse than the after effects of the poison gases of the Germans because while the German gases affect the body they do not, like the cigaret, impair the mind.

Many a mother who has sent her son to fight in France has raised him pledged against the use of the cigaret. Thousands upon thousands of such boys on the firing line are obliged to breathe a dense tobacco-charged atmosphere in the confined spaces of the trenches and dugouts. This result will be that most of them will follow the example of the others and fall victims to the cigaret habit.

Those who recommend sending cigarets to the soldiers for their comfort should remember that to give such comfort to some they will at the same time inflict great discomfort on many others. The measure of comfort to the smoker does not for a moment equal the discomfort to the non-smoker who is compelled to inhale the fumes emitted by the smoker.

Let us not gas our young men in the trenches.

All Thoughts for Exclusiveness

As long as woman strives for exclusiveness it is likely that the carrying out of various color and novelty schemes will be followed. In this costume on the right, baby lamb is used as trimming, forming the sash and collar—and then the milliner is called in to make a hat to match. All of this on a suit of velvet. On the left, the vest is the thing. This waistcoat is fashioned in ermine and embroidered in jet. It is a feature distinctly new.
